Boxwell Commencement.

The Hooking County Boxwell Commencement was held in Logan at the School Building on July 17, and a very excellent program was rendered that marks an epoch in the lives of many of our young people. At the opening of the program Rev. J. B. Mathias very eloquently invoked Divine guidance to the young people throughout their lives. Miss Minnie McBroom favored the hearers with a beautiful vocal solo, after which followed the presentation of diplomas by Mr. D. E. Harsh, clerk of the Board of County School Examiners. His words of commendation and advice were most fitting. Miss Nellie Allen favored the audience with a very pleasing piano solo. Professor C. L. Martzoff of Athens, was entrusted with the annual address to the graduates, and he was never in better form. His ever present eloquence and ready wit were most keen on this occasion. Mr. Martzoff is one of the most eloquent speakers in Ohio, and his hearers are always lifted up and on by his having been with them. It is indeed a pleasure to be in his audience.

Record Breaker is Promised of Coming Ohio State Fair.

A record breaker in every particular is the prediction for the coming Ohio State Fair and Industrial Exposition, to be held in Columbus, August 30, 31, September 1, 2 and 3. It will be replete with novel education features, one of which—the domestic science department—is attracting unusual attention. This school will be located in the auditorium of the handsome new women's building and will be under the direct supervision of Miss R. A. Wardall, of the Ohio State University. Miss Wardall has prepared a most attractive program, including practical demonstrations and daily lectures by experts.

Various state institutions and departments, including the Experiment Station State University, Dairy and Food Commissioner's Department and the State Library, will occupy one entire structure with interesting displays. The building wherein these exhibits will be housed will also be equipped with a modern lecture room where scientists will discourse upon topics of vital importance to our agricultural interests. The managers are planning other educational innovations equally as interesting as the above mentioned, which will be announced later. Although entries in the competitive departments of the exposition do not close until August 14th, next, the Secretary's mail is daily flooded with application for entrance, thus assuring most magnificent displays in each of the seventeen distinct departments. The amusement and entertainment to be provided will far excel that of former years, as an especially strong program will prevail each evening, including band concerts, free feature acts, Spellman's Stupendous Shows and a brilliant pyrotechnic display. The Exposition will be of such grandeur and magnitude as to well deserve the liberal patronage which indications now forecast.

What Douglas Wants.

It is said that all the blow and bluster of Congressman Douglas about the Aldrich tariff bill was only a bid for the Republican nomination for governor next year. This has been a consuming passion with him. He has been "mentioned" at almost every state Republican convention for ten years, like Harry Daugherty and Warren G. Harding.

No doubt Douglas would be willing to take the nomination next year, which nobody else seems to want except Carmi Thompson, the Cox candidate.

But the papers which began to boost Douglas on the first flush of his "denunciation" of the Aldrich bill, have been sorely disappointed by subsequent expressions. "I yield to none," said Douglas, "in my adherence and devotion to the whole principle of and practice of protection, and it is for that reason that I earnestly felt that the extreme stand-patters are likely to do harm to the cause of protection by creating hostility to the whole system."

That's enough, merely party expediency and fear of defeat. Try another.

When Baby Has Colic.

The next time baby screams with colic instead of doing it with soothing syrups or old nurse remedies, such as catnip tea and other decoctions to which our grand-mothers pinned their faith, try what hot water sipped from a spoon or taken through a bottle will do to relieve the pain.

The water should be fresh and boiled, but not boiling. Care must be taken that it is not hot enough to burn the delicate tongue and gums. This will usually give relief and can be repeated frequently with no danger to the child.
